

what is LOFTwall?

LOFTwall is a divider partition wall comprised of aluminum frames and customizable panels. LOFTwall is a solution for anyone facing the challenge of dividing space.

Dynamic – panels can be removed, customized, and repurposed to suit changing tastes and the latest trends.

Innovative – original, easy to assemble modular design, like nothing else on the market

Sleek – slim line design with a modern aesthetic

Functional – serves as a visual partition to separate one area from another, divides space, and can be easily moved when your needs change

How to use LOFTwall?

LOFTwall divides space and can create privacy to create a more functional environment, it's perfect for open spaces such as studios, lofts, open offices, retail and multi-use environments. As a portable divider it is a solution for residents that want to change the layout of their home quickly and with ease.

Who created LOFTwall?

LOFTwall was created and designed by Steven Kinder. Steve has an industrial design degree from Rhode Island School of Design and has been designing products, furniture, environments and branding systems for over 12 years. Steve designed the divider as a solution to a need he experienced while living in lofts and working in open office environments.

What does LOFTwall Cost?

List prices range from $750-$1800 depending on the size and finishes of the dividers.
